Other Important Information

Overseas Applications: Claimants in countries other than Australia should complete the Statutory Declaration and have it witnessed by a person who falls within categories equivalent to those listed on page 5

Processing Time: Allow approximately 30 business days for ASIC to either request further information from you to support the claim or process a successful claim by posting a cheque. If we request more information from you, the 30 business days will start again from when you provide that information. You need to also consider postage time. Avoid contacting us for updates or to see if we have received your documentation prior to the 30 business days as this can cause delays for all claimants. Cheques will be posted to the address listed in Part A of Statutory declaration, unless stated otherwise.

Other contacts: Please note that unclaimed money such as dividends, unpresented cheques and other types are often held with other unclaimed money authorities. Go to www.moneysmart.gov.au for other authorities that hold unclaimed money.

Supporting documents: ASIC will not approve any claims unless sufficient proof is provided to satisfy ASIC that the person making the claim is entitled to the funds. The documents requested by us are likely to provide such proof, however in some instances ASIC may request more information or documents to verify your entitlement.

Important: All documents received by post will be destroyed 3 months after receipt. To claim any original documents (Probate, Wills, birth/marriage/death certificates, superannuation/trust deeds, etc.), please contact unclaimed.money@asic.gov.au within 1 month of sending your documents.

Have you or the owner of these funds had a change of name?

Do you or the owner of the funds now have a different name to that as displayed on ASIC records? If so, please provide a certified copy of document to prove the name change, such as:

- Certified Official Marriage Certificate issued by Births, Deaths & Marriages or Decree Nisi and evidence of original marriage(s).
- Notice of change by Deed Poll.

How to have a document certified

A certified copy is a copy (often a photocopy) of a primary document that has on it an endorsement or certificate that it is a true copy of the primary document. It does not certify that the primary document is genuine, only that it is a true copy of the primary document (example shown below).

EXAMPLE ONLY:

I certify that this is a true copy of the document produced to me on xx / xx / 20xx

PROVIDING PROOF OF THE OWNERSHIP ADDRESS

You must provide ASIC with one certified copy of a document that shows the owner of the money and the address that the money is listed at on our records.

This document needs to be certified copy of an official correspondence. Suitable examples include (but are not limited to):

- Dividend advice from any company
- Bank Statement (black out account details)
- Rates notice
- Birth / marriage / death certificate for you or relatives (please provide documents to link yourself to the person who is the subject of the certificate). Please note these may be certified copies.
- Government correspondence
- Utilities bill (e.g. phone, power)
- Certificates / academic results of any kind, displaying your name and address. Please note these may be certified copies.

Requesting a confirmation from another organisation:

ASIC will also accept original official documents that you can request from the below organisations, as long as the document includes your date of birth and your address as it appears on the unclaimed money record:

- Australian Electoral Commission (AEC) roll confirmation letter with date of birth listing current and prior address (the address listed in Part B). AEC may not provide this information to third parties
- Transport authority confirmation letter with date of birth listing current and prior address (the address listed in Part B). You can call the Department of Transport in the relevant state to request this
- Medicare Australia confirmation letter with date of birth listing current address and prior address (the address listed in Part B)
- Centrelink letter confirmation with date of birth listing current and prior address (the address listed in Part B)
- Bank or Financial Institution letter confirmation with date of birth listing current and prior address (the address listed in Part B).

Alternatively, if the address on your unclaimed money record was for a business or company, you can provide ASIC with a document from that business (showing the address as it appears on the unclaimed money record).

Overseas claimants may obtain the same information from an equivalent organisation in their country of residence.
